

things DO change

A fully resourced training programme that aims to prevent violent extremism amongst young people and encourage tolerance and community cohesion

The Ten Modules

The Golden Rule

Peace

Citizenship

Earning a living

Becoming a Good Parent

Issues of Community Cohesion

Questions of Religion

Is multiculturalism dead?

Freedom of speech vs. respect?

What kind of Britain do we want?

The resource pack has been primarily designed for use in schools, madrassas and youth groups with young people aged 11-19 years old. It offers a wide variety of modules and material that can be delivered in many settings.

We have demonstrated that education can be a force for good and, through positive dialogue and an educational approach, it is possible to overcome the issues facing the community by understanding the wider cohesion agenda and preventing violent extremism.

For further information, please contact:
Sail Suleman, Calderdale Council, Community Services on:
01422 392869 or e-mail sail.suleman@calderdale.gov.uk